Sheridan: CO? IL? OR?

by Merlin K. Malehorn

Here's a little puzzle for you token collectors who like to practice your detective skills. The descriptions of the tokens are reformatted for standardization, but otherwise present the same information as is in the catalogs from which they are taken.

First are two tokens described in Wright and Nott's Colorado Merchants' Tokens, and attributed to Sheridan, Colorado.

obv: HIGH SCHOOL / (triangle and dots) / LUNCH / (triangle and dots) / SHERIDAN
rev: GOOD FOR / 5¢ / IN TRADE
aluminum, round, 25mm.

obv: HIGH SCHOOL / (fan shape) / LUNCH / (fan shape)/ SHERIDAN
rev: GOOD FOR / 5¢ / IN TRADE
aluminum, round, 25mm.

Here's an illustration of the first of the two tokens listed above; the "triangle and dots" type. It was obtained from a mail bid sale in which it was attributed to Colorado.

Next is a token attributed to Sheridan, Illinois in Vacketta's Trade Tokens of Illinois. The illustration is of a token acquired from a mail bid sale in which it was attributed to Illinois.

obv: HIGH SCHOOL / LUNCH / SHERIDAN
aluminum, round, 24mm.

Surprise! It looks like the second token attributed to Colorado, the "fan shape" type.

President's Message

Summer has gone, Fall is upon us, and since vacations are over we can get back to our hobby. By now I hope that a number of you have brought out your pens, pencils, and ideas for the 1994 Assemblage Medal design contest. All of the details were spelled out in the October issue and the deadline -- 15 January 1995 -- is drawing near, so make the Medal Chairman happy by sending in a design or two.

Although we were unable to get the desired information in a timely manner to notify all TAMsters of the American Numismatic Society's Coinage of Americas Conference in late October, TAMS did make a monetary contribution to help defray expenses of the conference, which this year was devoted to American Tokens, nineteenth century and earlier. Exhibits from this conference may travel to the American Numismatic Association convention in Atlanta next Spring, which would give some of our members an opportunity to view them.

Let's talk about MAVERICKS. It is a favorite column of mine, as I keep hoping I can help identify some of the specimens that are submitted by the members. John Mutch is to be commended on his work with this section, and I found particularly interesting his explanation of "information highway." Would that we all had e-mail to communicate with John, either in submitting or in identifying the many mavericks he handles for each issue. Keep up the good work, John, even though I am one who uses the 'snail mail.'

Kudos also, to Librarian Peter Irion, who was the recipient of our Medal of Merit at the Detroit convention. Peter devotes numerous hours to the Library work, and it was an honor well deserved. He furnishes the membership with interesting descriptions of the many literary donations received. These entice one to send for the books. As everyone is aware, one of the recommendations for all collectors, is "Get the Book and then get the coin" (or medal, as it may be). Peter is always ready to help novice collectors, as well as experienced collectors.

I'll sign off for now, with a reminder - don't forget to carry that application with you. If you should need a few sample copies of the TAMS Journal to show prospective members, contact Secretary Cindy Grellman. Her address is pro-minently displayed in every issue.

'Til next time,

TAMS Medals Available

The Token and Medal Society's custom of issuing medals dates back to the early days of the organization. Assemblage medals are struck for each year's meeting. And, every other year a medal is struck to honor the outgoing president. Many of the past medals are still available, affording newer members an opportunity to add to their sets. Listed below are those medals which may be purchased directly from TAMS. As the figures indicate, some are in very short supply, so interested collectors are urged to order promptly.

Where are They Today?

by Alvan Jones

I enjoyed reading the article titled "Where is it Today" which appeared in the August issue of the TAMS Journal. Submitted by Q. David Bowers, it describes a large gold medal which was presented by the mayor of New Orleans to an "eminent musician" in 1853. The present whereabouts of this medal, or whether it still exists, is not known.

It seems that many medals are struck and then disappear over the years. Bringing these to the attention of collectors increases the possibility that they will turn up. The subject of this article is another gold medal which, although made in a larger quantity and at a later date than the New Orleans medal, is evidently not known to collectors.

The medals that I speak of were brought to my attention through a book in my collection. Titled Old Nantasket, it was written by Dr. William M. Bergan in 1968, at the age of 78. Dr. Bergan was a former chairman of the board of selectmen for the town of Hull, Massachusetts; Nantasket is part of Hull. It is a charming little book, much of which is written in robust style.

The book is very captivating. A great deal of it is about the old politicians, which he calls the "Old Ring." After recounting many "shady deals" by the Old Ring, he tells about something good they did:

> "...I'll tell you one of the many nice things the Old Ring did for the town and its people. In 1919 when the boys had come back from service in World War One the Old Ring made preparations for a fitting home coming. Through the Congressman they obtained from the Treasury in Washington a number of blank twenty dollar gold pieces. On one side they had engraved the seal of the town of Hull the centerpiece of which is a replica of the Boston Light House and a diamond set where the light comes on. On the other side was this inscription:
> Presented > to > Veterans Name > by the > Town of Hull > for > World War Service
> June 25, 1919
> The medal was suspended from a black silk ribbon. The banquet on the evening of June 25, 1919 in Schlitz famous Palm Garden of the old Paragon Park was attended by Governor Calvin Coolidge, Lieutenant Governor Chaming Cox and about every dignitary of any importance in Massachusetts. Half the people of Hull jammed their way into the place they were literally hanging on the rafters. The menu for that banquet had six different dinners to choose from...After the dinner Governor Coolidge, who was later to become the president of the United States,...stood up and read the names on the boxes as each veteran walked up to get his medal and then he sat down."

I have not been able to find a single person that has seen one of these medals, and this is the only reference to it I have ever come across. If any TAMS member has additional information, I would be interested in hearing of it.

SASE means Self Addressed Stamped Envelope. Send an SASE when requesting information from a dealer or another collector.

Bodega: A New Word Learned While Studying Tokens

by Norman G. Peterson

Over the past several years I have had an interest in maverick tokens, and a word periodically comes along that stays with me because it seems to be unusual. One of those words is Bodega. My data base of mavericks has several tokens with this unusual word, and they are described below. My format for listing is as follows:

Line one: What appears to be the merchant name
Line two: The attribution, if it has been reported in the literature
Line three: Legend on one side
Line four: Legend on the other side

Line six: References

Each of the following tokens has the word BODEGA in its legend.

Finally I could stand it no more. What was Bodega, if anything? Does it have a meaning? Why was it used occasionally on tokens? Was it the name of a friend? What did it mean? It was time to go to the dictionary to get an answer.

The first dictionary I used was Webster's New International, copyright 1934 and published by H. O. Houghton. The essentials of its definition for Bodega was "A wineshop or wine cellar." The second dictionary was The American Heritage Dictionary..., 1969, published by American Heritage Publishing Co. Its essentials were as follows: "A wineshop, sometimes combined with a grocery; 2. A warehouse for wine storage."

My conclusion is that the maverick tokens listed above were issued by retailers that probably specialized in wine, but also sold other alcoholic beverages. It looks like a fancy name for a tavern.

In my mind Bodega now represents an alcoholic beverage merchant.

The Badge of Seven Confederate Knights

by Colonel Bill Murray, NLG

Recently my neighbor, Colonel Jack Rhoades, loaned me a book, Four Years with Morgan and Forrest, written by Civil War veteran Colonel Thomas F. Berry. The book provided interesting reading about Berry's dramatic activities during that conflict, chronicling many hair raising events. He suffered twenty-one wounds that he accounts for, and experienced capture and prison numerous times, always managing to escape. Berry espouses a vitriolic southern viewpoint apparently not tempered over time (the book was published in 1914). For these reasons alone the book intrigued me. But before reading chapter one, I noticed on the page opposite the introduction the following statement:

THE BADGE OF THE SEVEN CONFEDERATE KNIGHTS

This oath-bound order, the badge of which is shown on the title page, originated in Rock Island Prison in 1863 as the result of the efforts of seven patriotic Confederate soldiers confined there, who were actuated by high ideals of duty, fidelity and patriotism to the Southland, for the purpose of stopping the tide of desertions then taking place in the prison, the deserters taking the Yankee oath of allegiance and joining the Federal army for the frontier service. This beautiful badge of the Seven Knights of the Confederacy is a star with seven points, seven links and seven letters. The first letter of the seven words of our motto are emblematic of the seven cardinal virtues, taught by our order, and also are emblematic of the seven grades of officers in military organizations. The letters are the initials of the Latin motto, "Dulce et decorum est pro patria mori" ("Sweet and fitting is it to die for the fatherland.") I was chairman of the originators of the order and its first commander. Its membership from first to last numbered about 3000 men.

The title page of Colonel Berry's book includes an illustration of the "badge" of the Seven Knights of the Confederacy.

Always interested in things medallic, I didn't read further before turning back to the title page to see the illustration of the medal (see Figure 1). When I reached the Table of Contents, I discovered Chapter XXXI titled, "Rock Island," and quickly turned to that chapter to see what additional I might learn about the Seven Knights of the Confederacy.

Berry said little more about the Knights as such, but discusses at length the atrocities carried out at Rock Island Prison, which he compared most unfavorably with the more well known Andersonville. The prison commander, Colonel Carrier, purportedly conducted torture of a nature which recalls the more recent prisons of Viet Nam or worse. Carrier's purpose, as noted above, was to recruit soldiers for the United States Army for duty in the West, not in the war against the South. He "broke" many of the prisoners who did take the oath of allegiance and went West. One member of the 7 C. K. broke that oath, according to Berry, and gave away secrets of the order including, "signs, grips and badge." As a consequence, Berry was placed in the prison dungeon. He later escaped.

My purpose today does not require commentary on the book as such, though Colonel Berry fascinated me with his fantastic recall of details of terrain, skirmishes, battle events, and names of participants. If he kept a diary I don't know how he kept it through all of his escapades nor how he found time to record all of those details, as busy as he must have been with all of his adventures. In any case, fascinating describes the book for me. But, of more immediate interest to me, and presumably to you members of TAMS, is the medal (badge) of the Seven Knights of the Confederacy.

Berry's statement, "Its membership from first to last included about 3000 men" suggests that many badges must have been issued. Presumably some of them may be in collections accessible to numismatists. If any of you readers know of any or have suggestions as to where to look, please write me at 7400 Crestway, Apt. 1423, San Antonio, Texas 78239-3097.

(We travel quite a bit, so if you don't get a quick response, don't despair. I will answer your letters.)

Sheridan: CO? IL? OR?

And here's a description from Hemphill's Oregon Trade Tokens. I have no token for a picture, but wonder whether the token is different from those already pictured.

obv: HIGH SCHOOL / LUNCH / SHERIDAN
aluminum, round, 24mm.

How is this token to be differentiated from the one listed for Illinois by Vacketta? Is either of them different from the two Colorado tokens? I recognize that the Colorado tokens are listed as 25mm and the others as 24mm, but that's inconsequential considering the other similarities.

There are Sheridans in Arkansas, California, Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Michigan, Montana, New York, Texas, Wisconsin, and Wyoming. I've not unearthed any "good fors" attributed to their high schools, but such may exist for all I know.

There are also Sheridan Schools in various cities and communities around the country, such as Sheridan School in San Francisco, which issued a "bread and milk" token. Some of these schools may have been high schools and have issued a token like the puzzling Illinois, Colorado, or Oregon token. If so, I have no information about it.

So, what do we have here?

Great minds?
Great coincidence?
Great marketing by the manufacturer?
Not-so-great attribution?
Great confusion?

I vote for great confusion.

Well, all you amateur Sherlocks or Marples, what's the story? I'm waiting. Merlin K. Malehorn, 6837 Murray Lane, Annandale, VA 22003-1973.

PLEASE. . .

When you move, send the Secretary your change of address as soon as possible. Journals sent to old addresses are expensive — we must pay to have them returned, and then spend a minimum of 88¢ to mail them to the members' current addresses. This becomes quite expensive when we have at least a dozen or more for each issue!

Limited Edition Medal Honors Human Rights Pioneer, Ernestine Rose

Eleven years before Susan B. Anthony attended her first woman's rights convention, Ernestine Rose helped pass the Married Woman's Property Rights Bill. Sixteen years before Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation, Ms. Rose was threatened with being tarred and feathered for speaking out against slavery. Now, 102 years after her death, Ernestine Rose has been chosen as the Jewish-American Hall of Fame's 1994 honoree.

Although not exactly a household word today, Ernestine Rose probably deserves to be. She was described by English clergyman Joseph Barker in 1854 as "the most perfect specimen of intellectual and moral excellence I have had the happiness to know," and in 1869 Rabbi Jonas Bondi called her "the earliest and noblest among the workers in the cause of human rights."

Ernestine Louise Polowski was born in 1810, the daughter of the village's rabbi, in the ghetto of Piotrkow, Poland. Rejecting an arranged marriage at sixteen, she left her home within a year. The young girl travelled first to Germany, then Holland, and finally settled in England where she began her career as a public speaker in behalf of social reform. In 1836, Ernestine married William Rose and they emigrated to New York.

She became the best female lecturer in the United States, and was known as the "Queen of the Platform." Once, when a newspaper omitted Ernestine from a list that included Susan B. Anthony, Lacy Stone, and other "gifted women," an editorial in the Boston Investigator proclaimed that "to omit her name is like playing Hamlet with the character of Hamlet left out."

Sculptor Gerta Ries Wiener has created a memorable portrait of Ms. Rose, framed by her "Mary Pickford" curls. The inscription is an excerpt from a letter written in 1887, in which she summed up her extraordinary life: "For over 50 years I have endeavored to promote the rights of humanity without distinction of sex, sect, party, country or color." The reverse shows Ernestine Rose spellbinding an audience.

The Ernestine Rose medals, which are two inches in diameter and weigh over two and one-half troy ounces, have been issued in a very limited edition -- just 265 bronze, 80 pure silver, and a dozen 10 karat gold. Each is individually serial numbered on the edge. These are the rarest medals ever issued by the Jewish-American Hall of Fame since this project was inaugurated 25 years ago.

Ernestine Rose medals will be sent to those making contributions of $25 (bronze), $85 (silver), or $975 (gold) to the non-profit Magnes Museum, Dept. JAHF, 2911 Russell Street, Berkeley, CA 94705.

Medal Commemorates New Boeing Aircraft

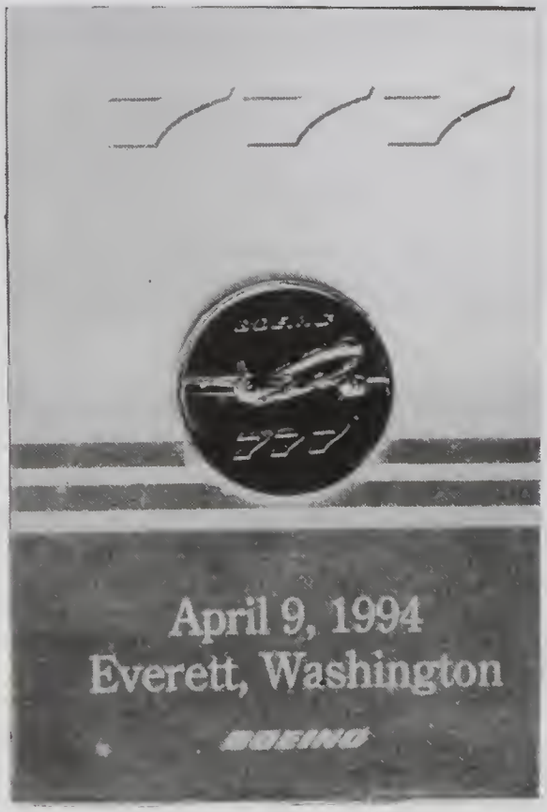
by David E. Schenkman

As most collectors know, tokens and medals are often obtained from unexpected sources. Such is the case with the subject medal (illustrated in its card of issue) which was given to me by Steve Brown, a Boeing manager. Although Steve is not even slightly interested in numismatics, he has a great interest in banjos. Having visited my office, from where I sell not only tokens, medals, and numismatic books, but also musical instruments, he knew of my interest in such things and thought I might like to have this piece.

The medal was issued by Boeing to observe the ceremonial rollout of its new aircraft on 9 April 1994 at Everett, Washington. The culmination of a four billion dollar project launched in October, 1990, the Boeing 777 is the world's largest twin-engine jetliner. There are two models: the "A-Market" model, scheduled for first delivery in May 1995, will fly high-density routes. The "B-Market" model, which is intended for intercontinental flights, will be ready for delivery in December 1996.

Described as "the most spacious and comfortable airplane in its class," the aircraft is made of over three million parts. Depending on the version, it can transport between 305 and 440 passengers. It has a range of between 4,560 and 8,490 miles.

The 40mm medal is struck in a nickel composition and has a reeded edge. The obverse depicts the aircraft in air, with "BOEING" above and "777" below. The reverse legend is "CELEBRATING / WORKING / TOGETHER / APRIL 9, 1994." According to Steve the medal was distributed to Boeing employees, and is not being offered for sale to the public.



50-State Series of Railroading Commemoratives is Launched

"All Aboard with America's Hottest New Collectible Series...the 50-State Series of Railroading Commemoratives." That's the slogan of a new railroading commemorative series offered by Smith-Thompson, a Vermont-based partnership. The principals, Wilfred E. Smith and Pamela K. Thompson, of Norwich, Vermont, hope to capitalize on the resurgent interest in railroading.

The 50-State Series of Railroading Commemorative Medals will be produced in two types: one ounce of .999 fine silver and antiqued bronze. The first two medals are complete and two more are in production. The Vermont Railroading Commemorative features the Boston & Maine Steam Locomotive No. 494 on the obverse, with the artist's rendition of the First Annual "Glory Days of the Railroad" festival passing the historic 1890 Gates Block in downtown White River Junction, Vermont, on the reverse.

The New Hampshire Railroading Commemorative features the Mount Washington Cog Railway locomotive "Peppersass" on the obverse, with a present day locomotive ascending Jacob's Ladder on the reverse. Every medal is accompanied by a brochure documenting the train's history and specifications.

Design work for the Maine Railroading Commemorative and the Massachusetts Railroading Commemorative is underway. The Maine medal will feature "The Lion," the flagship artifact of the Maine State Museum. One of the oldest U.S. built locomotives in existence, the Lion was an integral part of Maine's timbering industry of the nineteenth century. The Massachusetts medal will feature the Boston & Maine "Flying Yankee" and Boston's North Station. Smith-Thompson plans to have the New England set of railroading commemoratives completed by early 1995.

Prices of the medals vary according to packaging. The silver medal retails for $26.95 in a black paperboard box or vinyl flip and $29.95 in a deluxe blue velvet jewelry box. The antiqued bronze medal retails for $7.95 in paperboard or flip and $9.95 in velvet. The New England set will be offered in a cherry wood presentation case. All medals are encased in lucite capsules. Smith-Thompson is offering a 15% discount to TAMS members.

Inquiries should be directed to Smith-Thompson, P.O. Box 828, White River Junction, VT 05001.

Newsletter Features New Tax Token "Finds"

Featured in the Jul-Sep 1994 issue of the ATTS Newsletter, the American Tax Token Society's quarterly publication, are reports of several recently discovered tokens. Included with the issue are sheets number 7 through 11 to supplement the Malehorn-Davenport catalog.

"Prices Realized," a regular feature of the newsletter, provides information on tax token sales results in recent auctions. The high price reported for an individual token was $44.00 for a Turners 1/3¢ token. A bulk lot of 1,866 sales tax tokens, mostly from the state of Washington, was sold for $110.00. A Casey, Illinois ¼¢ token brought $30.51, while a fibre New Mexico School Tax Token fetched $30.00.

Those interested in obtaining information about the American Tax Token Society may contact the ATTS Editor at 6837 Murray Lane, Annandale, VA 22003. The annual dues are $8.00.

The event will take place at the Citrus Building, National Orange Show Events Center, in San Bernardino, California. The hours are 9:30 AM to 5:00 PM, and there is a $1.00 admission charge. There will be over one hundred tables of collectibles, coins, stamps, postcards, currency, and exonumia for sale, and competitive exhibits will be on display.

To mark the event, the club has issued a medallion, the reverse of which depicts the group's arrowhead logo. The obverse, designed by Virginia Hall, features the lamp of knowledge. The piece was struck in silver, golden bronze, oxidized bronze, and aluminum. A set in the four metals is priced at $24.50 postpaid.

To order the medallions or obtain information regarding the show, contact the club at P.O. Box 295, Patton, CA 92369-0295.

Early Bicycle Depicted on Coin Club Medal

The Peninsula Coin Club of California has released its 1994 medal. Featured on one side is a man riding a high wheel bicycle, with the inscription MUSEUM OF AMERICAN HERITAGE PALO ALTO CENTENNIAL 1894-1994 around. The club's logo appears on the reverse of the 39mm medal.

The club is offering bronze specimens of the medal for $3.50 each, postpaid. To order, make check payable to Peninsula Coin Club and send to Fred G. van den Haak, P.O. Box 60484, Palo Alto, CA 94306-0484.

Help Needed

The illustrated token has stymied the efforts by its owner to identify it, and he would be most grateful to any TAMS member who can provide information. The oval brass token is 21x30mm. One side has a crown above a sailing ship, while the reverse has only the denomination, 100.

If you can identify this token please send the information to the TAMS Journal editor, who will relay it to the owner.

Catalog of Charge Coins Published

In recent years the collecting of charge coins has become a very popular specialty and, as might be expected, the influx of new collectors has been accompanied by the discovery of many previously unknown issues. Thus, the release by Ed Dence of the "Updated 4th Edition" of his catalog, A Visual Guide To Store Charge Coins, will undoubtedly be a welcome edition to the libraries of many TAMS members.

The catalog is arranged alphabetically by city and state, with each piece illustrated and assigned a reference number. A letter indicates whether the coin is rare (R), difficult (D), or common (C). In a separate section the particulars of each piece (catalog number, store name, size, metal, shape, and the page in which the illustration appears) is given. Also provided, to facilitate the locating of mavericks, is a alphabetical list of those initials that are found on coins.

The large format catalog is loose leaf and has card covers. Priced at $20.00 postpaid, it is available directly from the author at 8627 Crispin Dr., Philadelphia, PA 19136-2013.

CODE OF ETHICS OF THE
TOKEN AND MEDAL SOCIETY

Membership in the Token and Medal Society is a privilege extended to those who subscribe to the purposes of the Society and who meet the other prerequisites of membership.

The Code of Ethics has been duly adopted by the Board of Governors of the Society to serve as a standard of conduct to which members should aspire. A breach of ethics by any member reflects, directly or indirectly, upon other members, the Society and upon the sincerity of our purpose. Such a breach is therefore prejudicial to the welfare of the Token and Medal Society and may be cause for disciplinary action by the Board of Governors.

Membership in the Token and Medal Society carries with it the commitment:

1. To support and be governed by the By-laws of the Token and Medal Society and such amendments, resolutions and policies as may be established.
2. To abide by all federal, state and local laws relating to numismatics and to tokens and medals in particular.
3. To conduct oneself so as to bring no reproach or discredit to the Token and Medal Society or to impair the prestige of membership therein, or the collecting of tokens and medals.
4. To abstain from buying or selling tokens, medals, or other numismatic and hobby material of which the ownership is questionable, and to report promptly to the proper law enforcement agencies information on suspected stolen material.
5. To promote the education of collectors and students of tokens and medals and a fraternal relationship among them.
6. To conduct transactions in tokens and medals fairly, with integrity that is responsive to legal requirements and to the highest ethical standards.

MAVERICKS

Although it might not be a source for maverick attributions, a trip to visit your state or local archives should prove interesting. I recently looked through the index to my state's archival holdings. After selecting several promising manuscript collections to view, it was my pleasure to discover a file of original applications for saloon licenses. The town involved had evidently run out of storage space and gave a box of old records to the state for safekeeping. These applications listed the name of the saloon, its address, and bore the signatures of the owners, in addition to the dates for the license. This primary archival information has yielded much information for the tokens I am researching.

Another file was the business papers of a local cigar manufacturer and contained a ledger recording his transactions with retailers in the area. This book is helping date many cigar stores in his sales area, and gives some insight to the tobacco business. He sold two grades of cigars, at $9.50 and $7.50 per hundred. Presumably they retailed for 12½¢ and 10¢ respectively.

There are many sources of information held by museums and archives throughout the world--it takes time to access them and sort out the gems, but as I have found, it is well worthwhile. You may be amazed at what you can find if you just look.
